“ In looking through an old address book of my mother's, I came across Tony's phone number and in searching for him came here. I wish I'd known him better, and envy those who did. I took accordion lessons from him in Monroeville (Garden City) back around 1961, but left soon thereafter. I became a folkdance musician and the instrument has become a huge part of my life. Tony taught me how to read accordion music, and dancing taught me how to really PLAY it :-). — Dick Atlee
