“Camille was hip. She was a tonic to my mom's worrysome side. She loved to teach in calm ways, and she spoke to me with intelligence and respect- even as a child. My sophomore year at college in Ohio she dropped me off at my fraternity house. My mom would not go in, but the squalor did not faze her. She never missed a card or call on a holiday, birthday or anniversary. My me, my sisters or our kids. She will be missed, but certainly not forgotten. Tom K
