“ It was an honor to have walked with you in a part of your journey through life. Indeed,one of the most colorful and entertaining people I've ever known. It was fun to have enjoyed so many fun times in our career. You made going to work fun. And going out with you and Sharon was just as much fun as one could take. I was always exhausted from laughter by the time I got home. Your character, strength and goodwill reached over generations and will continue to do so forever. Sadly missed.
