“ (email continued)I also remember a story that my Mom and Dad told concerning one of the block parties. I believe that this was the one held at Mr Capor's home. Mr. Buban was under a table that was covered by a large sheet so that no one could see him. The rest of the party was seated surrounding the table. Then someone would ask "Elmer, you have something that we want, please pass it out". Then Mr. Buban would pass out an article of his clothing. The response would be "no, that's not what we want". Then the same question was asked again. After passing out all of his clothes, he jumped out from under the table! However, he was part of the scheme(unbeknow nst to the rest of the party) and had worn an extra layer of clothing that night. He sure got alot of laughs that night!! He was truly devoted to your family and you were very fortunate to have him as you husband and father.

“ Sorry to learn of the passing of your husband and father. Mr. Buban was always friendly and enjoyed being with the kids. I remember that we use to play football in your front yard and he was the quarterback. I remember the time that we were playing football and I accidently hit Bobby's ear(he had an ear ache at the time). This cause much discomfort to Bobby and of course I got in trouble in Mr. Buban!! (to be continued on next email, I ran out of space).
