“ Such a loss of one of the kindest men I know. We met the Schmidt's when we moved into the neighborhood. Our kids became good friends right away .They were bonded easily by school, dances, pool, swim team & softball teams .We saw them at everything. At New Years Eve parties, they they came as a family. & had a great time together. He was always where ever he needed to be to support his girls in whatever they were involved in. They loved him dearly& he was definitely a proud daddy. He was a devoted husband & care giver. He loved his family & "his girls " more than anything. The great memories & their love for him will remain with them forever. It will help them get through this difficult time now & for the rest of their lives.....R.I.P. "H.T" you will be missed by many friends.

“ I hold the Schmidt family close to my heart. My sister and I were best friends with his daughters. We spent many play dates, swim meets, and softball games together. Mr. Schmidt was the girls' biggest supporter. They were his pride and joy and if given the chance, he would shout it from the roof tops! I'll never forget his silly personality that always left us laughing or hearing his daughters talk about what an amazing Dad he was.

To the Schmidt family: I am so incredibly sorry for your loss. Hoping you can find strength and peace through the memories of him. You all are in my thoughts and prayers as you navigate this difficult time. Sincerely, Jamie Hunter (Tiano)

“ My deepest condolences on the passing of a beautiful soul. His kind smile and warm intent was appreciated and held close over a very difficult time for my family. He was a special man with a heart of gold, the best smile and the kindest words. To realize I knew him for such a short time makes his impact on my life that much more special. Thank you for sharing him. Rest in Heaven “H”. You will be missed.

“ Now that HT is watching over his family and friends, I can feel him laughing at me as I attempt to put something as meaningful as his life into words without screwing it up. He enjoyed laughing at my shenanigans, and in our last conversation (which I will treasure forever) he counseled me to do better to join him in heaven. I told him thanks a lot, for now those words will be ringing in my ears for the rest of my life. Here was a real man. A man who didn't take crap from anybody, supported his children with the totality of his life force, lived entirely on his own terms, devoted his energies to taking care of his wife when she most needed him, and always showed up, stood up and made his powerful presence felt as a pillar of strength for his family and friends. When my dog was temporarily paralyzed, it was HT who made the long drive with me to procure expert care for my wonderful and crazy canine companion, and for months he accompanied us twice a week to doggie rehab. He also built from scratch a perfect dog fence in my yard to protect her. Of course, I was resigned to the fact that both my dog and my mom seemed to like HT more than they did me (I can hear him now getting a good laugh out of that). We came together as two very different people with wildly different backgrounds, who bonded over shared humor and a supremely amused view of the world. He was the most supportive, helpful, loyal and unique friend anyone could want. More than anything, he loved watching and supporting the activities and accomplishments of the amazing beings he and his equally astounding wife Bobbi created together. He lives on in them. My most heartfelt condolences, and as I told Kait, I hope to see him again.

“ The world lost an amazing man , but Heaven gained one heck of an angel, the party can start now. His heart , humor, and the beautifully unique way he lived his life was incredible to watch. The fantastic qualities he passed on to each of his girls, and the love he showed his family and wife was so admirable. He treated so many people like a part of his own family. I have been blessed enough to watch the immense strength of this family. He will live on through each one of you. God bless you all. I love you.
