“ My heart is sad at the loss of a dear friend of almost 80 years! Janice was my buddy when my family moved to Peculiar in 1945 and we maintained that friendship all these years! Many memories have crossed my mind.....from the heartbreak when she lost her mother as a young girl, to notes we wrote in school, to being crowned Queens in Girls Auxiliary at church, o my mom taking us to KC to shop for a new dresses for school & we bought same one so we could pretend we were twins & on & on. She was my maid of honor & I was so sad when she married & I couldn't be there....we were in California where my husband was stationed in the AF. And then children came, then we'd see other rarely but kept in contact thru letters....and then we shared when each of us had 50th anniversaries & other visits. I loved her & am so thankful I was able to talk to her on the phone several times in these late years. It is a great loss but I'm so thankful to the Lord for our life long friendship! And now I'm praying for her dear family!

“ My most heartfelt condolences to everyone. Losing your mom is one of the hardest things to experience. I have only fond memories of time I spent with Mrs. Stair. She had a gift for making everyone feel welcome and special. I loved her very much and truly enjoyed her company. Know I'm thinking of you all and keeping you in my thoughts and prayers.

“ I lost my mom when I was a young girl but God put special women in my life to model that role for me, so that I could see what a good mother looks like, and try to be that kind of parent to my own children one day. Mrs. Stair was one such woman. She was a great person and a fantastic mom and one need only meet her daughters to know that. Towards the end of her life, balance and strength became a problem and Kristy said that she would calmly say, "I'm going down." Today she is strong again and the only place she is falling is into the arms of Jesus. How glorious that must be! My prayers are for her husband and daughters and their families. May God bless you all with His peace!
