“ My husband and I live in the apartment building that Joe lived in. It was always a joy to see him in the lobby and hear about his full life. I considered him the welcoming committee of our apartment. He knew all the apartment news and kept everyone updated. I have missed seeing him greatly over the past few months.

“ How about whe he and your mom came running out of the house to spray water on Richard, Julie, Tricia, and Joey to stop an entire nest of bees from stinging us.
