“ I am sending love and prayers for strength and comfort to Ron and Lucie during this very, very sad time. Julie and I were FB/PanCan friends and I loved her spirit, her spunk and her love for her family. I have found comfort in this poem and I hope you do too. I do indeed believe Julie was greeted with love and shouts of joy to the place she waits free from pain and at peace.

A PARABLE OF IMMORTALITY

I am standing upon the seashore.

A ship at my side spreads her white sails to the morning breeze and starts for the blue ocean. She is an object of beauty and strength and I stand and watch until at last she hangs like a speck of white cloud just where the sea and sky come down to mingle with each other.

Then someone at my side says, “There she goes!”

Gone where? Gone from my sight ... that is all. She is just as large in mast and hull and spar as she was when she left my side and just as able to bear her load of living freight to the place of destination. Her diminished size is in me, not in her.

And just at the moment when someone at my side says, “There she goes!” there are other eyes watching her coming and voices to take up the glad shout, “There she comes!”

“ My heart is so heavy Julie not only for people like me that will miss you, but for your sweet Lucie & Ron who I cannot imagine their lives without you. I know you are finally pain free after all these years of fighting different illnesses, but the selfish part of those you left behind will be missing your smiles & careness you gave to those you loved. You have wanted to feel the warmth of your mother's hugs for a long, long time & knowing you have that now gives us comfort. But we'll still be sad for a long time to come.
Ron & Lucie, my heart goes out to both of you & my prayers will continue that God will give you strength to help cope with your loss.
Love to you both, Donna Hager

“ Our deepest condolences to you, Ron and Lucie. You were the loves of Julie's life. Lucie, you were and will continue to be the apple of your mother's eye. She was so very proud of you. In your life, things will happen that you can't explain. In those moments, know and believe they are signs from your mom that she is always with you. I wish you both courage and strength in the days ahead. May God help you through this difficult time in your lives. He loves you and is with you. Fondly, Maureen Spadone and Family
