

Lillian E. Cook

September 29, 2020

Lillian Elaine Cook, née Antrim, 96, died Tuesday, September 29, 2020 at Harbour Senior Living in Monroeville.

Lillian was born and raised in Kansas City, Missouri, the second of five children and her older sister Thelma Hamilton survives her. Lillian was the mother of five children, four of whom survive her and mourn her passing: Jacquelyn (Cook) Huntzinger; William Cook; Charlotte (Cook) Partain and husband Philip; Patricia (Cook) Martin and husband Nicholas. Her son John Cook was a Marine in the Vietnam war, killed in action in 1969. She also leaves eight grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

Lillian was advised by her parents to “stay away from those Cook boys”, who lived in the same neighborhood as the Antrim family. But Jack Cook was a devoted husband to Lillian, as their 72 year marriage can attest. They married soon after he obtained his pilot’s wings in the Army Air Corps, and prior to his departure to the Pacific theater in World War II.

While her children were young, Lillian used her creative talents in sewing and knitting to make clothes for not only herself but for her children as well. Once she went to work full time for Sears, some co-workers asked her to make clothes for them as well, but mostly she made things for herself and her children. She loved square dancing when she and Jack still lived in Missouri, and later in life she and Jack took ballroom dancing lessons.

She loved classic movies, novels, and later in life Sudoku puzzles and solitaire games on the computer. She passed on her love of chocolate to all of her children.

A memorial service for family will be scheduled for a future time.

Bruce and I love Lillian and Jack. They were our neighbors in Bend. She was such a delightful person!!! One of my favorite stories was hearing about the opening day of fishing one year here in Oregon. Jack and Lillian went up to South Twin Lake early that morning. They barely got the chairs out, and as Lillian sat down, the chair went forward, and she somersaulted into the lake. Thus, home they went. Please know how much folks in Bend loved your mom and dad. Our condolences to the family.
