

Violet M Wildeboor

August 17, 2016

Services Private

Tribute Wall

JD

“ *Jennifer Davis lit a candle in memory of Violet
M Wildeboor*

Jennifer Davis - August 25, 2016 at 01:08 PM

JD

“ My Gram was a beautiful women inside and out. She never found herself to be very pretty, but to me, her eyes always sparkled, she had a beautiful smile, her skin was flawless and the silver in her hair was the most gorgeous color I've seen on an older women, and she wore it well. Her nails were always groomed and painted. She dressed nice, her clothing was always nicely done up and pressed. I recall so many wonderful memories, it would take many pages to list them all. I loved watching her plant flowers, walking with her and having her read to me when I was younger. I recall on several occasions telling her that she should be on the Jeopardy show, that she would win a lot of money because she was smarter than all the rest. She would just smile at me and told me she wouldn't do so well. I was young, but I knew she would win. She often doubted herself and I never understood why. I wish shed known and believed the beauty she carried within herself inside and out. I remember being so fascinated when she volunteered and taught a poor older man how to read and write. She thought she didn't do well enough with him. Yet not so long after she was finished tutoring him, he wrote her a letter, a once illiterate man, to thank her for all she had done to help him. His writing a bit messy, but his spelling near perfect as well as his punctuation. She had a big heart. She loved her scrabble! I do believe she knew she was good at that and always was up for the challenge when it came to her siblings. I will miss her letters she used to write to me, her smile, our talks, hearing her laugh, watching her eat and enjoy her chocolates. I will miss sending her my children's school photographs. I will miss the I love you, that I heard at the end of every call. I loved her more than you could imagine and her memory will never lessen and she will remain in my heart forever.

I love you Gram

Jennifer.

Jennifer Davis - August 25, 2016 at 10:52 AM

TC

*Dear gram,
My mom always spoke about you. And I remember taking walks with you and coloring with you when I was little. I loved visiting you and loved watching you build puzzles you were always good at it. You were a good grandma and a lot of people care about you. I remember asking you what your favorite flowers were and you said sunflowers and I have never forgotten. My mom would talk a lot about you. i didn't get to say goodbye to you and I'm very sorry . I will miss you and I will miss seeing you. Heaven is beautiful and I know you will be happy. You always meant something to me. And I love you ! I hope you never forget that. I wasn't to young to know you and I'm blessed Because I loved every min seeing you. I hope you always know that you are missed and I hope you always know how grateful I was to meet you
Your always loved gram
Love Taylor*

Taylor cole - August 25, 2016 at 01:11 PM

PJ

“ *Such a beautiful and sweet soul. It was a pleasure to have her on n m life and getting to know her daughter.
P.Johnson,CNA 365 Hospice*

Patty johnson - August 23, 2016 at 06:58 AM